

◀ RELAXED REFINEMENT

EXCLUSIVE! In western Ireland not so long ago, a well-made sweater was considered "Sunday best," suitable for dress-up occasions. This finely tailored cardigan dresses up for office wear or dining out, but relaxes for a day at the farmer's market or tea by the fire. 100% merino wool, dry clean. Crescent-moon buttons add design detail to rib trim placket and pockets. In Irish Moss, Cobblestone, or Mulled Wine. Made in Donegal, Ireland. Sizes S-XXL (sizes run small). A20023 Donegal Cardigan $249

▲ THREE SWALLOWS

Sailors welcomed the sight of swallows as a sign that home port was near. Swallows, fabled for their timely return to nesting sites year after year, are a symbol of home, love and constancy. This exquisite pendant depicts three swallows in flight. Sterling silver, on 18" chain. Handcrafted in Ireland by Declan Killen.

The Gift of History

St Patrick, in bringing Christianity to Ireland, also brought the gift of history. While the Celts had the Ogham alphabet and Scandinavian runes, theirs was a proudly oral tradition. Early monks concentrated on writing, not just bibles but also preserving whatever local lore they found important, interesting or useful enough to commit to writing. Illuminated manuscripts and their distinctive knotwork art are still the benchmark of Celtic art.

IRISH BLESSING PRINT ▶

May the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back, the sun shine warm upon your face, the rains fall soft upon your fields & until we meet again may God hold you in the hollow of his hand.

—The Irish Blessing

It is, indeed, the Irish blessing—an invocation of faith, and also of the warmth of the Irish people and the gentle beauty of the emerald countryside. Illuminated calligraphy by Kevin Dillon in the style of medieval manuscripts; embellished with the artist's seal in wax. Double-matted in a gilded frame with vine design, 9" x 11". Also available in rustic pine frame or unframed (see gaelson.com).

▲ ST. PATRICK'S PRAYER BRACELET

I bind to myself today: God's power to guide me, God's might to uphold me, God's wisdom to teach me, God's eye to watch over me, God's ear to hear me...

A moebius strip is a two-dimensional surface with only one side, a loop that truly never ends. This bracelet has the prayer of St. Patrick running across the entire moebius-shaped surface, a fitting homage to the power of the infinite. Sterling silver.
